Objective of the event – To enhance the understanding of students regarding basics of stock market investing.

About the Event

Shree Atam Vallabh Jain College organized a five-day workshop titled "Building Wealth with Stocks: A Beginner's Workshop." Dr. Kiranpreet Kaur led the first session, providing practical guidance on various basics of stock market investing. Beginning with the essentials, students learned about investment options, the power of compounding, and the distinction between primary and secondary markets. The session also covered essential knowledge about different indices, both domestic and global, and elucidated the process of opening a demat account, a prerequisite for trading in the stock market. Moreover, students were instructed on the procedures involved in buying and selling stocks, laying the groundwork for understanding market operations. By the end of the session, participants gained a foundational understanding of stock market concepts and practical know-how, setting them on a path towards informed investment decisions.

In the subsequent two sessions led by Dr. Kiranpreet Kaur, the focus shifted to fundamental analysis in stock market investing. Students were guided through the essentials of stock analysis, covering topics such as company selection criteria, PE ratio, price to book value ratio, beta factor of stocks, bid-ask spreads, debt equity ratio, ROE, ROCE, past sales and profit trends, and the analysis of annual reports, among other fundamental factors. Through practical demonstrations, students were shown how to apply these analytical tools to evaluate the performance and financial health of companies. Real-world examples were utilized to illustrate the application of these concepts, enhancing students' understanding and proficiency in fundamental analysis. By the end of these sessions, students had acquired valuable skills and knowledge to assess investment opportunities more effectively in the stock market.

In the fourth session of the workshop, students were introduced to the tools and techniques of technical analysis, which are indispensable for trading in the stock market. Led by Dr. Kiranpreet Kaur, participants learned how to utilize various analytical tools to study past market data, such as price movements and trading volumes, in order to forecast future price trends. Technical analysis involves the use of charts, patterns, and indicators to identify potential buying and selling opportunities. Through hands-on exercises and practical examples, students gained insight into how to interpret technical indicators and patterns to make informed trading decisions. By understanding the principles of technical analysis, students were equipped with valuable skills to analyze market trends and price movements, thereby enhancing their ability to navigate the dynamic nature of the stock market with greater confidence and proficiency.

On the final day, students were treated to an illuminating session on mutual funds by Mr. Gaurav Tandon, a seasoned expert in the field.
